

Document 8: Campus Code of Conduct and Disciplinary Regulations

Institution: Hyderabad Institute of Technology (HIT)

Document Version: 2026.1

Effective Academic Year: 2026-2027

1. Professional Dress Code and Personal Grooming

Hyderabad Institute of Technology prepares students for the corporate engineering sector; therefore, maintaining a professional appearance is a strict statutory requirement on campus. The university enforces a dynamic dress code that changes based on the day of the week and specific academic activities.

- The Uniform Mandate (Monday, Wednesday, Friday): On these specific days, all undergraduate students must wear the officially tailored HIT uniform. For male students, this consists of a light blue button-down shirt, dark grey formal trousers, and black leather formal shoes. For female students, this consists of either the light blue shirt and dark grey trousers or the officially tailored grey and blue salwar kameez, paired with black formal shoes. Untucked shirts or rolling up sleeves past the elbow are considered uniform violations.
- Professional Formals (Tuesday and Thursday): On Tuesdays and Thursdays, the uniform is relaxed, but students must adhere strictly to business casual or formal wear. Solid colored shirts, formal trousers, and conservative dresses or kurtas are permitted. T-shirts with graphic prints, ripped jeans, track pants, shorts, and open-toed sandals or flip-flops are completely banned on these days.
- Weekend Casuals (Saturday and Sunday): Students visiting the campus for library work or club activities on weekends may wear casual clothing, including plain t-shirts and intact jeans. However, sleeveless tops, clothing displaying offensive language, and athletic gym wear remain strictly prohibited in all academic blocks.

- Laboratory Attire (All Days): Regardless of the day of the week, any student entering a mechanical, chemical, or electrical laboratory must wear a closed-front, knee-length white cotton lab coat and heavy closed-toe shoes. Students wearing canvas sneakers or sandals will be denied entry to the lab due to chemical spill hazards, resulting in an automatic absent mark for that session.

2. Identity Card Protocols and Campus Access

The institutional Identity Card (ID) is a secure smart card embedded with an RFID chip and the student's biometric signature. It acts as the ultimate passport for campus access, library usage, and examination entry.

Students are legally mandated to wear their ID cards visibly on the official university lanyard around their necks at all times while inside the campus perimeter. Keeping the ID card inside a backpack, a wallet, or a pant pocket is treated as a violation. If a campus security officer or faculty member finds a student without their ID card visibly displayed, a spot fine of ₹200 is issued immediately.

If a student forgets their ID card at home or in the hostel, they will be stopped at the main campus gate. They must pay a temporary access fee of ₹50 to receive a one-day paper visitor pass, which allows them to attend classes but restricts access to the library and laboratories.

In the event of a permanently lost or physically broken ID card, the student must immediately log a "Lost Card" ticket on the student portal to deactivate the RFID chip and prevent misuse. The student must then pay a replacement fee of ₹800 to the accounts department and submit a new passport photograph. The replacement card will be issued within exactly three working days.

3. Vehicle Registration and Campus Traffic Regulations

HIT promotes a pedestrian-friendly green campus. Consequently, the administration imposes severe restrictions on motorized student vehicles to minimize carbon emissions, noise pollution, and accident risks.

Undergraduate students are strictly prohibited from driving four-wheelers (cars or SUVs) onto the campus premises. The student parking lot is exclusively designed for two-wheelers (motorcycles and scooters). If a student attempts to bring a car to campus, the security gates will deny entry, and there is no street parking available outside the university walls.

To utilize the two-wheeler parking lot, the student must officially register their vehicle with the Campus Security Office at the beginning of the academic year. Registration requires submitting a copy of a valid Driving License, the vehicle's Registration Certificate (RC), and active insurance paperwork. Once approved, a holographic HIT parking sticker will be affixed to the vehicle's front visor. Unregistered vehicles without this sticker will be wheel-clamped, and a release fine of ₹1,000 will be charged.

Traffic Safety Rules:

- Speed Limit: The absolute maximum speed limit within the campus boundary is 20 kilometers per hour. Speed radar cameras are installed on the main arterial roads.
- Helmet Mandate: Wearing a standard ISI-marked crash helmet is strictly mandatory for both the rider and the pillion passenger. If a student is caught riding without a helmet, or allowing a friend to sit behind them without a helmet, their campus parking privileges will be suspended for one month, and a fine of ₹500 will be levied.
- Noise Pollution: Modifying motorcycle exhausts to create excessive noise is banned. Security guards are authorized to permanently ban such modified vehicles from entering the gates.

4. Digital Conduct and Social Media Policy

In the digital age, a student's online behavior reflects directly upon the reputation of the institution. HIT actively monitors public mentions of the university and enforces a strict digital code of conduct.

Students are expressly forbidden from recording video or audio of live classroom lectures, laboratory demonstrations, or faculty conversations without prior, written consent from the specific faculty member. Uploading unauthorized recordings of university staff to platforms like YouTube, Instagram, or X (formerly Twitter) is classified as a severe privacy violation, leading to an immediate suspension of one full semester.

Furthermore, utilizing social media to launch defamatory attacks, spread unverified rumors about the university administration, or cyberbully fellow students is entirely prohibited. If a student has a legitimate grievance regarding hostel food, faculty behavior, or fee structures, they must use the internal Grievance Redressal Portal. Tagging the university's official social media handles in derogatory public posts to force administrative action will bypass the grievance committee entirely and send the student directly to the Disciplinary Board for reputation damage.

5. Prohibited Items and Zero-Tolerance Substance Abuse

HIT maintains a strictly sterile academic environment. The possession, consumption, or distribution of illicit substances is a non-negotiable, zero-tolerance offense that bypasses standard warning protocols.

The campus is a designated tobacco-free zone. Cigarettes, e-cigarettes, vapes, chewing tobacco, and pan masala are completely banned. Discovery of any tobacco product on a student's person or in their bag results in an immediate ₹5,000 fine.

The presence of alcohol, unauthorized prescription narcotics, or illegal recreational drugs within the campus perimeter—including the parking lot and sports fields—triggers the highest level of disciplinary action. If a student is found intoxicated, smelling of alcohol, or in possession of illegal drugs, the university will not conduct an internal hearing. The campus security will immediately detain the student and hand them over to the local Cyberabad Police Station, followed by permanent expulsion from the university. No degree will be awarded, and the student's admission fee will be entirely forfeited.

Weapons of any classification are also strictly banned. This includes firearms (even with a legal civilian license), hunting knives, brass knuckles, and explosive materials (including unauthorized firecrackers during festivals).

6. The Disciplinary Action Committee (DAC) Procedures

When a severe violation of the Campus Code of Conduct occurs, the matter is escalated to the Disciplinary Action Committee (DAC). The DAC is a high-level tribunal consisting of the Dean of Student Affairs, the Chief Security Officer, the Head of the involved student's department, and one neutral legal advisor.

When a student is formally charged with a Level 2 or Level 3 violation (such as academic malpractice, fighting, or property vandalism), they are issued a "Show Cause Notice" via their official university email. The student has exactly 72 hours from the timestamp of the email to submit a written defense or explanation.

Following the written submission, the student is summoned for an in-person hearing before the DAC. During this hearing, the student may present witnesses or evidence (such as timestamped photographs or messages). However, the student is not permitted to bring legal counsel or parents into the hearing room; they must defend their own actions.

If the DAC finds the student guilty, they are authorized to impose three tiers of punishment depending on the severity of the act:

1. Disciplinary Probation: The student is allowed to attend classes but is stripped of all placement privileges, club memberships, and hostel rights for six months. They are also forced to complete sixty hours of community service (such as assisting the library staff or cleaning the laboratories).
2. Temporary Suspension: The student is banned from entering the campus for a period ranging from two weeks to one full semester. They receive zero attendance for this period and are barred from writing any internal or external examinations that occur during their suspension.
3. Permanent Rustication: The ultimate penalty. The student's enrollment is permanently canceled, their name is struck from the university rolls, and a permanent remark of "Expelled for Disciplinary Violations" is printed on whatever partial transcript they receive.
